*The day is thine, the night also is thine:
thou hast prepared the light and the sun.
Thou hast set all the borders of the earth:
thou hast made summer and winter.
Psalm 64:16, 17*

PASTOR'S CORNER

"What must I do to be saved?" The crying plea from a jailor to the apostles Paul and Silas.

Acts chapter 16 records the events surrounding his query. As you may have read, Paul and Silas had been imprisoned in the Greek city of Philippi for antagonizing the authorities by healing a demon-possessed woman. As the two apostles sang their songs of praise to God, suddenly a great earthquake hit the prison where they were bound in stocks, and they, along with all the other prisoners, found themselves freed from their fetters. The jailor, seeing that the prisoners in his charge could easily escape, and knowing his life was to be required, pulled out his sword and was just about to take his own life, when Paul called out, "Don't harm yourself! All of the prisoners are still here!"

The jailor, sensing that a miracle has taken place, falls at the feet of Paul and Silas and asks the question, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?" Paul doesn't hesitate. His answer is brief and clear. "Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ," he said, "and you will be saved, and all your household."

Have you ever felt yourself to be in a situation similar to the one the Philippian jailor found himself in? When you thought things were going fairly routine, all at once a calamity, an unexpected event hits you and reminds you just how vulnerable and unpredictable life can be? A jailor finds himself on the brink of ending his own life because of a sudden turn of events. Thankfully for him, the apostles Paul and Silas were with him to proclaim to him the hope we have in Jesus Christ. "Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ," Paul said, "and you will be saved." No matter what happens to any of us, Jesus can take us through. He can give us hope that goes beyond trials, beyond hardship, yes, and beyond the grave itself.

The jailor took Paul and Silas at their word. He, and his family were baptized into Christ that very night, and now sleep in the surety of eternal life. Is that your hope? Is Jesus your surety? I pray He is, and like the jailor from Philippi, you have learned to trust in Him all the way.

May God bless you,
Pastor Kevin Dunn
