FROM THE PASTOR'S CORNER

Should We Celebrate Christmas?

I have been asked more than once in my life if I believe Adventist Christians should be celebrating the Christmas holiday as done by the rest of the western world. In one sense, as I look at the obsessive consumerism that takes place in relation to Christmas – stores filled with intense shoppers, some of them sleeping overnight in the parking lots so they can be the first to get a great bargain on some gadget; advertisements overwhelming our senses, whether on the radio, the television, in our newspapers; our whole culture seemingly given over to the "Santa Claus" version of Christmas – in this sense I'm personally ready to scrap the whole notion of Christmas and just hunker down for the winter. That's because much of our culture has stolen from us the original meaning of Christmas.

Christmas was originally intended to celebrate the truth of the birth of the baby Jesus into this world so that we sinners could be saved for eternity. While it's true that we don't know for certain when Christ was actually born, we do know that He was born, and for that we should be happy all the year.

Some are quick to point out the pagan origins of many of the Christmas trappings, such as the Christmas tree, holly bows, yule lights, etc. My response to this is found in the Bible, in 1 Corinthians 8:4, where it says, "we know that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is no other god but One."

Paul here was addressing the controversial issue of Christians eating food that had been previously presented before an idol as a way of having the "god" represented by that idol bless that food. Paul's answer to the people concerned over this was basically; If yours or another's conscience is bothered by eating food sacrificed to idols, then don't do it; otherwise, don't make it a moral issue. As I apply this principle to the celebration of Christmas, my position is that I celebrate it as an American holiday – not a holy day – as in some churches. It is a time to be with family, to share love gifts, and, above all, to remember that Jesus loved me so much He came to this world to redeem me from my sins.

So I try to keep a balanced view of the issue. I don't like Santa Claus. I have little use for Frosty the Snowman, or even the Grinch that Stole Christmas.

I do, however, enjoy the beautiful Christmas decorations that brighten my home that time of year, and the fact that my children will – Lord willing – be home to share this joyous time with us.

May you have a wonderful holiday, and may the Lord Who was born – whenever that was – be the Lord of your whole year.

*Heaven and earth are no wider apart today than when shepherds listened to the angel's song.
Humanity is still as much the object of heaven's solicitude
as when common men of common occupations met angels at noonday, and talked with the heavenly messengers in the vineyards and the fields.
To us in the common walks of life,
heaven may be very near.
Angels from the courts above will attend the steps of those who come and go at God's command.
The Desire of Ages, p. 48*

For unto us a Child is born,
unto us a Son is given:
and the government shall be upon His shoulder:
and His name shall be called Wonderful, Counselor, The mighty God,
The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace.
