FROM THE PASTOR'S CORNER

One of those passages of Scripture I like to reflect on is Titus 2:11-14, which says, "For the grace of God that brings salvation has appeared to all men, teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly in the present age, looking for the blessed hope and glorious appearing of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ, Who gave Himself for us, that He might redeem us from every lawless deed and purify for Himself His own special people, zealous for good works." (NKJV)

What's so special about this passage? It's all about grace. I have been accused in the past of preaching too much on grace. "Pastor, don't you know you need to exhort your congregation to 'raise the standard,' to 'tow the line,' to keep God's commandments more faithfully?" I've been labored with on this theme before, and yet, as I study the Word of God I see grace poured all through it like a flood onto a dry desert. Probably no Bible passage says it with more clarity than the one just quoted: "The grace of God that brings salvation..." We learn here that grace has at least two aspects that blend into one another like two railroad tracks merging together into the distance.

What I would call "saving grace," is harmoniously united with "transforming grace." In other words, grace doesn't just save us into God's kingdom; it also, by delivering us from our sins, readies us to live in this kingdom. It increasingly helps to deny those "ungodliness and worldly lusts," and shows us how to "live soberly, righteously, and godly" lives, even in this present age with all its soul-polluting corruptions.

So I will continue to preach on grace. After all, it was an inspired lady who wrote more than a hundred years ago that "Christ's favorite theme was the paternal tenderness and abundant grace of God." (Christ's Object Lessons, p. 40) I would say, if that was the favorite theme of the Lord Jesus, then let that be my theme as well.

May God bless every one of you. May we together learn to experience His grace more deeply, until that golden day when we meet our Lord Jesus when He comes for us.

God bless you,
Pastor Kevin Dunn
